Attention: .edu.au Domain Administration Committee (eDAC)
Re: .edu.au Governance and Policy Review

To Whom It May Concern,

On behalf of the Academy of Design Australia, I would like to commend eDAC on its current governance, policy and administrative arrangements for the .edu.au domain. I do not see any good reason to change the existing system.

In particular, the Academy would caution against loosening eligibility rules or widening the scope of eligibility. While assuring the financial stability of the domain is obviously a significant consideration, we believe the integrity of the domain is of paramount importance – evidenced, for example, by the place of education among the top three Australian exports.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to this review.
